PROGRAM

The Greater St. Louis Aviation Maintenance Safety Counselors is sponsoring their annual maintenance seminar. This years scheduled keynote speaker is Bill O'Brien from FAA Headquarters in Washington, D.C. Many of us know Mr. O'Brien's from his featured articles in the Aviation Maintenance Journal.

This two-day event combines maintenance technical presentations and exhibits of vendors of aviation parts, appliances and aviation services. The presentations are approved by the FAA for mechanics who will be renewing their Inspection Authorization in accordance with §65.93(a)(4) of the Federal Aviation Regulations. Attendance of the presentations can be used in the FAA's Aviation Maintenance Technician Awards program. The safety counselors will be accepting donations to their Aviation Maintenance Technician Scholarship to be awarded to a student at both Linn State Technical College and Southwestern Illinois College

Registration begins at 6:30 AM on Friday. Mr. O'Brien will be holding two 1 ½ hour sessions at 7:45 and 10:00 AM on Friday morning only. Seating capacity at each session is 150 people and will be first come first seated. Technical presentations are one-hour segments with the sessions from 7:45 AM to 4:30 PM on Friday and 8:00 to 1:00 PM on Saturday.
